High Performance HDMI Cable

(Printer Friendly Version)

Transparent High Performance HDMI Cable is designed to work effortlessly with the new digital video formats. HPHDMI maintains accurate digital signal transmission over much longer lengths than typical HDMI cables. With HPHDMI you will enjoy a cleaner, brighter picture with more vibrant, lifelike colors without the inline signal boosting or optical conversion that many HDMI cables require over long lengths.

Transparent's custom designed, gold plated HDMI connectors and termination techniques insure accurate digital signal transfer. This high performance precision manufactured cable has 2 shields - a 100% coverage foil shield and a 90% coverage oxygen free, high purity copper braided shield - to provide superior protection from outside interference. The copper conductors have greater surface area than typical HDMI cables which further aids digital transfer.
